

Tell us where you are at with your book . . .

Conception – You have a seed planted in your heart to write a book. At this point, you may not even know specifically what you are supposed to write, but you are aware that God has called you to be a writer for Him.

1st Trimester – You have narrowed in on a topic to write, but your book is still in the beginning stages of development. Perhaps you have an outline of the overall direction you are going, as well as a few chapters written.

2nd Trimester – You are starting to see your ideas come together and form what now looks like an actual book! At this point, you are about halfway through getting all of your ideas out of your head and onto paper. Keep writing 😊

3rd Trimester – You are almost there! You can see that this labor-intensive process is coming to an end. Your complete manuscript is ready to be professionally edited, and you are ready to speak with an illustrator to design your amazing book cover.

Delivery – It's go time! You can't hold onto this book any longer because your heart is bursting to give birth to your message.

It's time to show the world what God has created in you.

Now you are ready to publish.

What trimester are you in?
